The economy continued in the crisis mode in the first quarter of 2009. The unemployment rate jumped past 8%; the stock market plummeted to 6500; foreclosures accelerated to record levels, and iconic companies talked of imminent bankruptcy. When in a crisis mode, companies, like people, react differently. Some are brought together by the events; others torn apart. Some refocus on things that matter and still others become creative and innovative in ways not previously envisaged. At Lyons Bancorp, our conservative culture rose front and center as the staff remained focused on the basics of banking and produced yet another sound financial quarter. Barring the enactment of any industry-wide government punitive regulation, the Bank is positioned to weather the remaining storm.

Our earnings for the first three months of 2009 increased almost 6% over those recorded for the same period last year – $765,276 versus $724,021. This equates to $0.90 versus $0.85 on a per share basis. The increase in earnings was due to growth in the Bank's loan portfolio, an increase in our net interest spread, and improved efficiencies. On a sequential quarter-to-quarter basis, earnings were flat – $765,276 versus $771,795.

Total assets on March 31, 2009 were $430 million versus $392 million on March 31, 2008. Loans totaled $243 million as compared to $220 million. The residential mortgage/home equity loan segment of the loan portfolio represented the lion's share of the increase; this, the result of the Bank's efforts to expand its underwriting of these types of consumer loans. In the first 90 days of 2009, the Bank closed 171 residential mortgages totaling almost $25 million. Another 129 have been approved and are in the process of closing. For all of 2008, the Bank closed 236 mortgages. To minimize interest rate risk in the future, many of these mortgages have been sold into the secondary market. The Bank's off-balance sheet portfolio of these sold loans is quickly approaching the $100 million mark, and because the Bank continues to service these mortgages, reoccurring fee income will grow handsomely.

In keeping with our conservative approach to credit risk, we once again made a provision for loan losses ($370,000) that was well in excess of our actual net losses of approximately $105,000. During the first quarter net loan losses equate to 0.04% (four-tenths of one percent) of average loans outstanding. The ratio of our non-performing loans to period-end loans fell to 1.17% from the year ago level of 1.51%. Note that our percentage of non-performing loans continues to decline at a time when that of our peers are rising. Moreover, our total reserve for loan and lease losses as a percentage of period-ending loans is 1.54% – higher than the average of our peers of 1.37% (as of 12/31/08).

Growth in retail and commercial deposits remain strong. Over the past year, deposits increased from $351 million to $383 million – almost 10%. This has provided the funding needed for our asset growth. While we have the ability to raise deposits in the secondary broker market, we have chosen not to take that route. Our local deposit growth is a testament to our branch staff and their ability to cultivate new and existing customers.

Reflecting these efforts, our stock price bounced up in the first quarter. However, until the general market becomes more comfortable with financial stocks overall, our stock price may not manifest all of our efforts.

To date, we are meeting the challenges of these very trying economic times by sticking to the basics. I'm confident that we can continue to do so. However, there are some in Washington that seek to impose much higher FDIC insurance premiums on all banks. If enacted as proposed, these increased premiums would materially affect our 2009 earnings. Together with our community bank trade associations, we are resisting these attempts and trying to distinguish ourselves from those who caused the problems. We will know the results of our efforts soon.

Sincerely,

Robert A. Schick
President and Chief Executive Officer
